

Twining Association of Mumbles

We are a voluntary organisation committed to encouraging links of all kinds – cultural, education, sporting, etc. – with our twin town, Hennebont, near the city of Lorient in Brittany, a historic market town of some 15,000 people with which Mumbles has been twinned since 2004. Each alternate year one of the twinned towns takes its turn to host a group of visitors, who stay with host families and join in walks, visits to neighbouring attractions and so on. For example, in June 2017, a large group from Mumbles visited Hennebont and enjoyed a full programme of events and expeditions.

We have a monthly French discussion group, monthly pétanque games on the newly reinstated pitches in Southend Gardens, and other social activities. We are working with Hennebont to develop educational links between primary schools in the two towns, as well as other social, cultural and sporting links.

A party from Hennebont will visit Mumbles in June 2018 and already we are planning a full programme for the visit.

We are always looking out for new members: individuals, families, clubs or associations of all kinds.
